Akyaka

Akyaka is a bustling Turkish resort famous for its distinctive architecture and wonderful sandy beach. It is less than one hour from Dalaman Airport (DLM), making it extremely accessible for tourists arriving from abroad.

It is the perfect destination to relax on the beach or eat in one of the many restaurants along the sea front or its renowned river fish restaurants.

Whilst being essentially a Turkish town, there is a great support network for British families moving to the area and virtually all shops and restaurants have staff that speak English.
